INVITATION

I heartily welcome all of you to the 2015 ICME(International Conference on Multiculture and Education). This conference is co-organized by seven academic groups: three Korean academic associations(Korean Association for Human Development, Korean Association for Multicultural Education Studies, and Korean Association for International Cultural Exchange), three educational institutes(Graduate School of Education of Inha University, Educational Research Institute of Inha University, Chongju National University of Education), and two research divisions(Inha University’s convergent Research Project Team for Multicultural Education and BK21+ Center for Glocal Multicultural Education Professional Development)

The theme of conference is “Human Development and Multiculture”, which is a severe issue within a multicultural society. The Earth is a one world. Immigration among the countries and long-term stay has been increased due to international marriage, labor, study, visiting, travel, and so on. This enhances the demographic, religious, and cultural diversity. On the other side, these diversities trigger various social problems. Therefore, the main topic for today’s conference is "how there cultural diversities effect human development.". Let’s make better world with full of diversities with scholars from various countries.

Here, I especially want to express my deepest gratitude to keynote speakers: professor Shengmin Yang, Professor Kunwar, Professor Taeho Kim, Professor Jaesik Cho, and Professor Nelli Khan. Also, thank you for the keynote speakers for second day, Ex-minister Dr. Younglin Moon, Professor Ding Hong, Professor Vung Xuan Tinh. And I want to show my gratitude to all session moderators, speakers, and participants who will take their part in the thesis presentation, discussion, poster presentation, interpretation and as staffs.

It is my wish that today’s conference will be a meaningful moment to understand each other’s differences within a multicultural society and discuss the ways of coexistence.

Welcome to this conference.

Professor Youngsoon Kim

Organizing Chair of 2015 ICME
